Director's Note:

As a student director, it's been stressful but an amazing learning opportunity. I've been able to learn more about being in charge of a show and all the inner workings a director has to take care of. I'm blessed to have worked with such a hardworking, dedicated and fun cast and crew as we have all worked together to create this show. I've learned that it takes a lot of dedication and commitment to be a director as they have the responsibility of putting the show together and paying attention to every single detail. Saving the Greeks is an enjoyable show that I'm sure you're going to have fun experiencing. So sit back and enjoy the show!
